Musical Intelligence

Do you hear music in the air?

Perhaps you have musical intelligence or you have "music smarts". More than simply enjoying music, a high musical intelligence involves skill in the performance, composition, and appreciation of musical patterns.

It encompasses the capacity to recognize and compose musical pitches, tones, and rhythms. It is also the ability to think in sounds, harmony, and rhythm.

Individuals with a highly developed musical intelligence find themselves involved in music composition, instrumentation, individual and group performance, music ministry, music instruction, and even music history.

If music is your passion and your way to express your love for humanity, let the music play. The world is waiting to sway to your beats.
