Spiritual Intelligence

Are you more concerned with the lasting, permanent, and eternal than the temporary, passing, and fleeting?

Then, you might have a tendency toward spiritual intelligence in that you are more concerned with the unseen, the intangibilities, and the supernatural. You find yourself concentrating on those matters that are beyond the here and now.

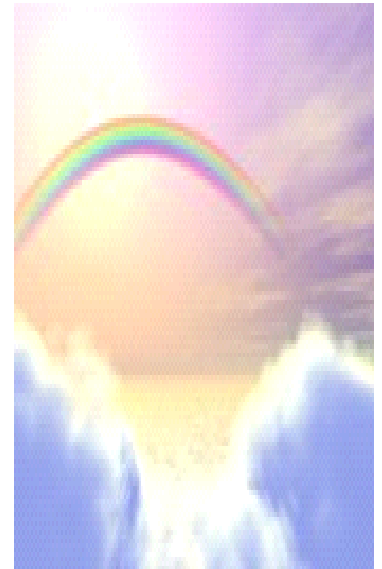

You tend not to see actions as isolated and unconnected. Instead, you readily see how current actions shape future conditions.

Careers in ministry, coaching, counseling, and philosophy flow full with such gifts.

With a gift of spiritual intelligence, you are the one to share your wisdom using proverbs, quotes, and adages. You keep us focused on timeless matters rather than the short-lived, transient, moments of each day.

If you have this gift, keep speaking the truth. We all need to hear it.
